REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE DISTRICT POLICE
IN HIS EXALTED HIGHNESS THE NIZAM'S DOMINIONS
FOR THE YEAR 1335 FASLI.

NAWAB Muhammad Nawaz Jung Bahadur was in charge of the Department throughout the year. He retired on 27th Azur, 1336 Fasli, and Mr. F. C. Crawford (now Sir Francis Crawford), who succeeded him as Director-General, held that office for only a brief period of three months and nine days. Sir Francis Crawford handed over charge to me on the 5th Farwardi, 1336 Fasli, and I am therefore submitting this report to Government.

Nawab Muhammad Nawaz Jung took over charge of the District Police on the 27th Azur, 1330 Fasli, and had thus on the date of retirement been six years in control of the Department. Mr. F. C. Crawford had been Deputy Director-General of Police, C.I.D., for five years, when he took over charge as Director-General. He was succeeded in the Criminal Investigation Department by Mr. G. W. Benton.

Of the sixteen districts including Atrāf-i-Balda (Sarfi-Khas), there was during 1335 Fasli continuity of charge by a single District Superintendent of Police only in six districts. Of the remaining ten districts, six were under two and four under three District Superintendents of Police. Mr. Syed Abdul Majid, District Superintendent of Police, Bir, was suspended about the close of the year on the very grave charges of torture and extortion and subsequently dismissed by order of Government.

2. Nawab Muhammad Nawaz Jung was on tour for 88 days and inspected the districts of Aurangabad, Parbhani, Nander, Nalgunda, Warangal, Adilabad and Kuppāl (Nawab Salar Jung's Estate). He also inspected 28 police stations, 6 Circle Inspectors' offices, and 5 Prosecuting Inspectors' offices. Much of his time was taken up by Commissions, of which he had as many as 5 on hand, and also in connection with His Exalted Highness' camp arrangements and some confidential enquiries.

Mr. Crawford was on tour for 43 days and inspected the districts of Mahbubnagar and Bir. In the latter district, he enquired into the complaints against the District Superintendent of Police. He also inspected three police stations and four nakas.

Major Shah Mirza Beg was on leave for five months, and Mr. Manohar Lal Puri officiated for him. During this period, Mr. Manohar Lal was on tour for 43 days inspecting the districts of Nizamabad, Raichur and Karimnagar. He also enquired into complaints against three Sub-Inspectors and into a very serious riot case, which had culminated in murder.

Mr. Muhammad Younus was on tour for 22 days and inspected the office of the District Superintendent of Police at Aurangabad and three police stations. He also enquired into the complaints against the Sub-Inspector of Bhainsa in the Nander district.

Nawab Syed Lashkar Khan, District Superintendent of Police, Gulburga, who was on deputation in the Director-General's office and entrusted with the control of the Range II, was on tour for 60 days and inspected the Gulburga, Medak and Osmanabad districts. He also inspected eight police stations and one Circle Inspector's office.

It would thus appear that with the exception of Bidar and Atrāf-i-Balda, all the districts were inspected by officers from the Head Office, some of the districts being inspected more than once. The total number of days spent on tour by the Director-General, his Assistants and the Deputy Director-General, shows a decrease of 115, viz., 256 against 371 days in the previous year. In his report for 1333 Fasli, Nawab Muhammad Nawaz Jung referred to the reduction in the number of touring officers consequent on the abolition of two posts of Assistants to the Director-General in accordthis has contributed towards the reduced amount of touring done during the year. The question of the creation of the post of a Second Range Deputy Director-General is under examination.

The total number of offices inspected was as under :—

- 15 D. S. Ps'. offices including Kuppal.
- 44 Police Stations.
- 7 Circle Inspectors' offices.
- 5 Prosecuting Inspectors' offices.
- 4 Nakas.

Among the Superintendents of Police, Mr. Alimuddin spent 160 days on tour, Mr. Konda Reddy 143, Mr. R. C. Iyengar 141, Mr. Abdur Rahim Khan 138, Mr. Ali Raza Brandon 137 and Mr. Muzaffar Husain Sufi 117. The touring done by other District Superintendents of Police was below 100 days, Mr. Ghulam Husain Ali, D. S. P., Mahbubnagar, and Mr. Abbas Ali Khan, D. S. P., Bidar, coming at the bottom of the list with 39 and 30 days, respectively. The touring done by some Superintendents is manifestly inadequate and steps are being taken to remedy this.

Among Assistant Superintendents, Mr. Syed Mubarak of Gulburga was on tour for 198 days, Mr. Arif Khan of Parbhani 167 days, Mr. Syed Abdul Hai of Bir 161 days, Mr. Aga Ali of Nander 158 days, Mr. Farid-ud-din of Karimnagar 149 days, Mr. Shah Muhammad Khan of Aurangabad 122 days, Raja Ekbal Chand of Atrai-i-Balda 113 days and Mr. Alamdar Husain of Raichur 112 days. The touring by the other Assistant Superintendents of Police was less than 100 days.

The total number of serious offences, of which the investigation was checked or supervised by the District Superintendents of Police and Assistant Superintendents of Police, was 196 and 190 respectively giving an average of 12 cases per officer. There is considerable room for improvement in this direction and necessary steps will be taken to effect this.

3 The monsoon of 1335 Fasli though of average volume, was uneven and untimely. The harvests of the Nalgunda, Warangal and Karimnagar tracts were below standard. The districts of Medak, Osmanabad, Mahbubnagar and Atrai-i-Balda also suffered from untimely or insufficient rain, while in Raichur the situation was serious. With the exception of the south-westerly tract of the Dominions, however the economic situation showed no deterioration from the previous year. The general economic conditions therefore were not such as greatly to affect the incidence of crime.

PART II.

CRIME.

4. The following statement shows the total number of true cognizable cases investigated by the Police as compared with the two preceding years :—

Offences	1333 FASLI		1334 FASLI		1335 FASLI
	Investi- gated	True cases	Investi- gated	True cases	Investi- gated	True cases
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
CLASS I.—Offences against the State and Public justice	277	258	266	241	212	197
CLASS II.—Serious offences against the person	982	865	1,085	917	1,185	1,055
CLASS III.—Serious offences against the person and property or against property only.	2,060	1,878	1,997	1,835	1,842	1,683
CLASS IV.—Minor offences against the person	211	201	219	202	177	158
CLASS V.—Minor offences against property	1,741	1,554	1,513	1,341	1,127	1,281
CLASS VI.—Other offences not specified above	1,339	1,301	1,062	1,038	786	768
Total	6,616	6,057	6,142	5,604	5,629	5,142

The year records a further decline in the volume of crime, the total number of true cases under all classes being 5,142 against 5,604 in the preceding year and 6,057 in 1333 Fasli, or a decrease of 442 and 915 as compared with the two previous years. The figures for crime against property have shown a gentle but steady fall, while figures of serious crime against the person have steadily risen during the past five years. In the year under review, serious offences against the person (Class II) show an increase of 108 over the figure of the preceding year.

The figures quoted above refer only to the area policed by the Hyderabad District Police—Diwani and Sarf-i-Khas. The large Paigahs and Jagirs, which cover an area of some 8,559 square miles with a population of about 11,17,790, maintain an independent police force of their own.

The abnormal increase in crime in the Nizamabad district may undoubtedly be attributed very largely to the presence and operations of the members of criminal tribes employed on the Project at Nizamsagar. Their numbers exceed 21,000, and this bare statement will suffice to indicate the absolute necessity, in the public interest, of exercising and maintaining an effective surveillance over them. Unfortunately, however, there has been some misunderstanding and a lack of co-operation between the Police and the officers of the P. W. D. responsible for the Project, with the natural result that the active criminals employed on the Project have not failed to take the fullest advantage of the opportunities thus offered them. The matter is receiving my attention.

The total number of offences reported from the Diwani and Sarf-i-Khas was 5,751 vide column 4 Appendix A. Investigation was refused in 122 cases under Section 160 (b), Asafia Criminal Procedure Code, leaving a balance of 5,629 cases investigated. Deducting 487 cases, which proved false on investigation, the total number of true cases stands at 5,142. The percentage of cases not investigated to cases reported works out to 2·1 against 2·2 last year and 2·5 in 1333 Fasli. This percentage has shown a steady decline for some years past.

The percentage of cases proved false to cases investigated was 8·6 against 8·7 last year and 8·4 in 1333 Fasli.

From an examination of the crime statistics, it will be seen that there has been a decrease under all heads except Class II (Serious offences against the person). It would not be safe, however, to draw conclusions based on the accuracy of these figures, for there is unfortunately reason to apprehend that the incidence of crime is not fully reported. Recently in the course of enquiries into the activities of a mixed gang of dakaites and robbers, who had been operating during the past two or three years in and around the Atrai-Balda district, it was found that no less than nine out of twelve dakaities in which property was recovered from accused persons, had gone unreported. Similarly, in the Parbhani district, the arrest of a party of Minas has led to the discovery of many unreported burglaries. These are disquieting facts and the suppression of crime on a large scale throughout the Dominions is a possibility that must be taken into account in forming any general conclusions as regards the apparent decrease of crime. The increase in the number of serious offences against the person, as indicated above, is also a matter that calls for attention. There has been a steady rise in crime of this nature during recent years and an exhaustive examination of the causes underlying it seems necessary.

5. The following are the figures for the last three years showing the number of cases detected and their judicial results :—

Items	1333 F.	1334 F.	1335 F.
Total number of true cases	6,057	5,604	5,142

Percentage of recoveries to losses	36·3	40·5	30·5

There is a slight fall in 1335 Fasli in the percentage of cases detected as compared with the previous year, though the figure shows an improvement over the percentage of 1333 Fasli. The percentage of cases completed and challaned during the year under report also shows a slight decrease. The percentage of cases tried to a conclusion to cases brought up before the courts shows a further decrease of 1·3 as compared with the previous year. In fact, this percentage has shown a steady decrease which is remarkable in view of the fact that a court with first class powers has been established in each taluka. The number of cases pending with the courts at the close of the year was 866 against 861 in the previous year, and 800 in 1333 Fasli. With the steady decrease in reported crime and a lesser number of cases placed before the courts for disposal, it is difficult to account for the increasing arrears. The matter is one of sufficient importance to merit closer examination.

The amount of property stolen is less than that in the previous year, but the percentage of recoveries has fallen from 40·5 to 30·5, which is the lowest since 1312 Fasli.

The districts of Karimnagar and Adilabad, which have few exempted jagirs, may be taken as providing examples of the average police conditions of a district. In the former district, the population of which in the last census was returned at 10,95,444, only 278 cases under the Penal Code were reported, a ratio of one offence to every 3,940 persons or 2·5 per ten thousand of the population. In the latter district with a population of 6,55,536, the ratio of criminality is one offence to every 3,136 persons or 3·1 per ten thousand. Nizamabad with a population of 4,99,465 and with no Paigahs or big Samasthans, returns 317 offences, which gives a ratio of 6·3 per ten thousand, just double that of Adilabad, but the crime in Nizamabad is undoubtedly affected by the exceptional conditions, to which a reference has already been made. The other districts are intersected by Paigahs and exempted jagirs, which do not report to the Diwani Police any cases but those of serious crime, and it is difficult therefore to arrive at a correct estimate of their comparative criminality.

Sixty-two per cent. of the cases decided by the courts ended in conviction. This figure for conviction also includes those cases, which ended in compromise. As regards persons, 47 per cent. of those, whose cases were completed and 42 per cent. of those who were arrested during the year, were convicted. The percentage of cases convicted is slightly less than in the previous year, while the percentage of persons convicted has slightly increased. The figures however are regrettably low and do not compare favourably with the figures of neighbouring provinces.

7. CLASS I.—Serious offences against the State and Public Justice.—The subjoined statement shows the number of true cases under this head :—

Description of crime	TRUE CASES		Increase	Decrease
	1834 F.	1835 F.
1	2	3	4	5
Abetment of crime	1	..	.	1
Offences relating to coin and stamps	9	4	..	5
Harbouring offenders	3	2	..	1
Offences against public justice (escape from lawful custody)	90	85	..	5
Rioting and unlawful assembly	125	93	..	32
Personating a public servant	13	13
Total	241	197	..	44

Offences under this class show a decrease of 44 as compared with the previous year. The decrease is shared by all sub-heads, the highest decrease being returned under rioting and unlawful assembly.

The four cases relating to coin and stamps were all of uttering spurious coins. Two cases were challaned resulting in one conviction and one acquittal.

Of the two cases of harbouring offenders, one was against 8 Pardis of Parbhan, who gave shelter to the notorious Saklia Pardi responsible for several murders, burglaries, robberies and dakaities. The case was pending trial in court at the close of the year. The other was of Nander district and was under investigation by the police, when the year closed.

There were 85 cases of escapes from custody with a total of 114 persons. These figures, however, include 5 cases of resistance during arrest and 15 cases of escape from court lock-ups and jails. The escapes from actual police custody therefore were 65. Out of a total number of 85 cases under this sub-head, 74 were traced during the year and the culprits were recaptured. The large number of escapes from police custody is unsatisfactory as the majority of such cases are the result of slackness, indicating lax discipline. The matter is receiving my attention. In the Mahbubnagar district one Janga, who after a trial for house-breaking in the Munsiff's court at Narayanpett had just been convicted and sentenced, escaped from the custody of the guard in open court while his jail warrant was under preparation, and jumped into a well. He was taken out alive and received an extra six months for escape and attempt at suicide. In the Osmanabad district, one Yousuf Khan concerned in a dakaiti case at first escaped from the jail and when re-arrested escaped from police custody. He was again captured and convicted for escaping on the two occasions.

A satisfactory decrease of 25 per cent. is returned under Rioting and Unlawful Assembly, there being 93 true cases for disposal as compared with 125 in 1834 Fasli. Nine cases were under investigation by the police at the beginning of the year, making a total of 102 cases for disposal. Of these, 78 cases were challaned to court and 17 otherwise disposed of, leaving 7 cases involving 51 persons, under investigation with the police when the year closed. Including the cases pending trial in courts from last year, 155 cases involving 1,600 persons came up for trial, of which 86 cases with 978 persons were disposed of by the courts, only 16 cases with 86 persons ending in conviction and 5 cases with 44 persons being allowed to be compounded. The percentage of cases convicted to decided works out at 18·6 and of persons at 8·8. These figures are anything but satisfactory and the fact that 90 per cent. of the persons prosecuted for this class of crime should be acquitted or discharged, calls for attention. The 110 cases were mainly occasioned by agrarian disputes. It is well known that such cases are difficult both to investigate and to try. There has, it appears, been a tendency on the part of the police to arrest too freely, but a general and frequent contributory cause for the failure of this type of case, is a protracted hearing with frequent adjournments. Some improvement would probably be obtained, if magistrates were instructed to deal specially and expeditiously with all such cases.

An unusual case of personation of a public servant is reported from Purna in the Parbhani district. A man appeared in Purna posing as Sarishtedar of the office of the Director of Public Instruction and started inspecting the local schools. He obtained some money from the schoolmasters and entered flattering remarks in the inspection books. He gave the teachers to understand that he had come under the Director's orders, and as the Director was at that time inspecting at Nander, his story was believed. When the Director of Public Instruction however came to Purna, the fraud was discovered. The man was arrested at Umri and on conviction sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 25.

8. CLASS II.—Serious offences against the person.—The following statement gives details under this head :—

Offences	DIWANI AND SARF-I-KHAS		Increase	Decrease
	1334 F.	1335 F.
1	2	3	4	5
Murder	161	181	20	..

Unnatural offences	2	4	2	..
Attempt at and abetment of suicide	114	96	..	18
Grievous hurt	369	471	105	..
Causing hurt to or obstructing a public servant in the discharge of his duties	55	61	9	..
Causing hurt to extort a confession or property	3	7	1	..
Administering stupefying drugs with intent to cause hurt or commit an offence	1	10	9	.

Wrongful confinement for the purpose of extorting money or confession	8	2	.	6
Causing death by rash and negligent act	36	26	.	10
Rash or negligent riding or driving on a public road	14	23	9	..
Assault or criminal force with intent to outrage the modesty of a woman	50	51	1	..
Exposure of infants to conceal births	1	1	..
Total ..	947	1,055	164	56

There is a net increase under this class of 108 cases as compared with the previous year. The increase is significant, because while reported crime against property has shown a progressive fall, the figures for crime against the person have steadily risen. Amongst the facts that have contributed to produce this result, the following may be mentioned :—(1) As already indicated, a good deal of the crime against property probably goes unreported ; (2) the very free grant of bail by all courts to persons accused of these serious offences—a matter that has been commented upon in previous reports and has also been the subject of special references to Government ; (3) the readiness of courts to permit compromise in grievous hurt cases, no less than sixty-six per cent. of this class of crime having been compromised in court. In 69 cases, the accused were acquitted and in only 64 cases were sentences awarded. The law clearly discriminates between the various kinds of hurt, in that only the less serious cases are compoundable without the permission of the court, but it would seem that the grant of permission by courts has become a matter of routine. In view of the very serious rise in this class of violent crime, it appears desirable in the interests of law and order that the attention of magistrates should be directed to the necessity of exercising greater care and discrimination in permitting parties to compromise.

Of the total number of 1,055 cases returned under this class, the number of cases challaned to court was 858 involving 1,761 persons. Including cases pending from the previous year, the courts tried 1,136 cases with 2,601 persons and decided 843 cases with 1,719 persons ; 233 cases involving 335 persons ended in conviction, 333 with 881 persons in acquittal and 275 cases with 494 persons in compromise. The percentage of conviction, including the compounded cases, comes to 60·2 against 71·2 last year. The percentage of persons convicted was 48·4 against 42·0 last year. If the compounded cases are not taken into account, the percentage of conviction of cases and persons is 27·6 and 19·4, respectively, which is exceedingly poor.

The increase under this head though slight is nevertheless disquieting, as it has been steady for some years past. Murders show an increase of 20, Bir, Parbhani and Nalgunda contributing chiefly to this increase. Of the 181 murders, the relations between the sexes provided the motive for the majority. Twenty-nine were due to women jumping into wells with their children owing to domestic quarrels, 17 can be classed as murder for gain and 10 were the result of land disputes.

Gulburga again heads the list with 22 true cases of murder and Parbhani comes next with 17. Raichur though recording a decrease of 5, is still third and Nalgunda has advanced several places and taken the fourth place on the list. Of the 181 true cases of murder, 169 were traced and 137 challaned to court. Including cases pending from previous years, the courts tried 227 cases with 734 persons and decided 106 cases involving 319 persons. More than half the cases remained unfinished in the courts. Out of the cases decided, 25 cases with 37 persons ended in conviction. The percentage of cases convicted to decided was 23·6 and that of persons 11·6. The results cannot be regarded as satisfactory. One disability from which investigation work has suffered in this connection has previously been brought separately to the notice of Government. I refer to the grant of bail by courts to accused persons sometimes before investigation has begun and frequently before an accused person has been arrested by the police. A list of such instances was submitted last year.

Another reason for the lack of success may be found in the delays which take place in the disposal of cases in court. A murder case of the Nander district is tried in Aurangabad, of the Raichur district in Gulburga, of the Adilabad district in Warangal and so on. The result of adjournments and delays on the attitude of witnesses, who come from such distances, is not difficult to realize. One murder case was sent to the Aurangabad Sessions Court on 6th Ardibehist 1333 Fasli, after six months trial in the lower court. The accused was acquitted by the Sessions Judge on 30th Farwardi 1335 Fasli.

In the Aurangabad district in 1334 Fasli, one Narsiga was accused of murdering his wife, but was acquitted by the Bhokardan court. On the 19th Dai 1335 Fasli, he killed his 5 year old child by throttling him. He is now an inmate of the Lunatic Asylum.

In the Bir district, Saklia Pardi with 5 of his gang fell upon a family party of peaceful peasants encamped in their fields and shot dead one Kalia, 3 other persons including a woman were seriously wounded with hatchet and buckshot and the dakaits decamped with property worth Rs. 119-8-0. They committed another murder in the Manjlegaon Station House of this district and several robberies before they crossed over to the Parbhani district. In the latter district Saklia was responsible for 1 murder, 1 dakaiti, 8 robberies and 2 thefts. With the co-operation of the C. I. D., Saklia and 4 of this gang were arrested, but the leader escaped while in the custody of a constable. He has now been re-arrested and is under trial. This man Saklia with other parties had been convicted in 1328 Fasli, in the Parbhani district and later on in the Central Provinces. He escaped from the Amraoti Jail and formed a fresh gang during the year under report and again started his depredations.

The most sensational case of the year was the murder of Jagirdar Badre Alam of Parchal in the Parbhani district. This Jagirdar had gone to his jagir village, Devalgaon, to celebrate the annual 'Urus.' One of his tenants Maruti was opposed to him on account of some land dispute and when the Jagirdar became enamoured of Poonji, sister-in-law of Rama, and made advances to her, Maruti at once entered into a conspiracy with Rama and invited the Jagirdar to a temple outside the village after sunset. Maruti personated Poonji and putting on female apparel and concealing a sword under his garments proceeded to meet the Jagirdar accompanied by Rama at the appointed hour. They found the Jagirdar waiting and did him to death. Both the accused persons went straight to the District Magistrate's court and confessed. They made over the apparel to the court and the sword was also subsequently recovered at their instance. The enquiry was later on taken over by the C. I. D., and two other men were arrested and challaned on a charge of abetment. The two original accused persons were committed to the Sessions when the year closed.

A triple murder in Parbhani district was committed by a party of four persons attracted to a house in the hope of recovering hidden treasure from it. The house in question belonged to Saheb Rao Mahratta and was situated in his field. The house was reported to contain hidden treasure and five men went on a dark night to search for it. Gyanba and Pandurang servants of Saheb Rao, who happened to be sleeping in the house, were shot dead at once and one Sidnath Jogi, who came to their help, met the same fate. The treasure hunters then decamped. Mansur Khan and four others were arrested and challaned, but the case for want of direct evidence ended in acquittal.

Of the numerous murders of children by their mothers, a case of Medak district deserves mention. Tirmalayya Bakkal married one of his daughters against the wishes of his wife Narsamma to a poor Bania. Narsamma thinking that her husband would similarly give away the other two daughters jumped with them into a well. All three were drowned.

In the Nizamabad district, one Ashanna was suspected to be a sorcerer and was done to death. Six persons were prosecuted and were pending trial at the close of the year. In the Karimnagar district, a husband overheard his wife complaining of his ill-treatment to one of the neighbours and when she went back to the house he killed her. The accused was committed to the Sessions.

10. Class III.--Serious offences against the person and property or against property only.--The following statement gives details under this head : -

Offences	1334 F.	1335 F.	Decrease	Increase
1	2	3	4	5
Dakaities	32	23	9	..
Robberies	104	95	9	..
Burglaries	1,596	1,475	121	..
Causing mischief	103	90	13	..
Total ..	1,835	1,683	152	..

The aggregate decrease under this class compared with the previous year is 152 or 7·8 per cent. Dakaities return a decrease of 28·2 per cent., robberies 9·6 per cent, and burglaries 7·6. The figure for dakaities is the lowest ever recorded for the Dominions. Burglaries are the lowest on record during the last 15 years. Robberies have also touched their lowest point. As previously mentioned, it is doubtful whether too much reliance can be placed on the figures of reported crime. Out of 1,683 true cases under this class, 615 or 36·5 per cent. were traced showing a deterioration in police work as compared with last year, when the percentage was 43·5. Four hundred and sixty-four cases were challaned to court and including cases pending from the previous year the courts tried 603 cases and decided 486 or 80 per cent. as compared with 80·5 per cent. last year. Conviction was secured in 262 or 53·9 per cent. cases against 40·6 per cent. in the preceding year.

The number of accused persons arrested was 1,074 and the number challaned to court 816. The total number of persons tried by the courts including previous year's under-trials was 1,109. The cases of 804 were decided, of whom 386 or 48 per cent. were convicted as against 42·1 per cent. in the previous year.

Details of each sub-head under this class will be found in the statements which follow.

One fact which may be certainly claimed as an important contributory cause for the decline of dakaities is the continued use of the Criminal Tribes Act and the employment of large numbers of members of criminal tribes on the great irrigation projects in the Dominions.

In 7 districts out of 15 in the Diwani Ilaka, not a single case of dakaiti was reported, 3 districts reported one case each, one district 2 cases, three districts 3 each, and only one district—Gulburga—4 cases. Incidentally the highest figure last year was reported by this same district.

One case of Nizamabad district deserves passing mention. A party of 9 Lambaras carried away a would-be bride against the wishes of her parents with a portion of the property, that would have formed the dowry valued at about Rs. 32-8-0. The case was reported as a dakaiti and was challaned to court and remained undecided when the year closed.

The value of property lost under dakaities is returned at Rs. 3,954-9-9, a little over one-fourth of what it was last year. The recoveries amounted to Rs. 191-0-6 or only 4·8 per cent., the lowest probably ever returned under this head. The number of dakaities traced by the police during the year was 12 and all these cases were challaned to court. Including cases pending from previous years, the courts tried 30 cases and decided 16 or 53·3 per cent., 9 or 56·2 per cent. ending in conviction.

The total number of persons arrested was 62 and including persons accused in cases pending investigation with the police at the close of the previous year 67 persons were challaned. The courts tried in all 166 persons and decided the cases of 82, of whom 50 were convicted. Here again it may be noted that less than 50 per cent. of the cases put into court were finished by the close of the year.

There has been a decrease of 9 true cases under this head and out of the 95 cases, 73 or 76·8 per cent. were traced, the percentage for the preceding two years being respectively 63·4 and 73·8. Of the traced cases, 47 were challaned during the year, and including the cases pending from the previous year, the courts tried 61 cases, of which 48 or 78·6 per cent. were decided, 28 or 58·3 per cent. of the cases decided ending in conviction against 65·5 per cent. last year.

The total number of persons arrested was 144 and of these 93 were challaned to court. Including the previous year's under-trials, the courts tried 114 persons deciding the cases of 76, of whom 37 or 48·6 per cent. were convicted. The amount of property stolen was only 31·7 per cent. of last year and the recoveries amounted to 46·9 per cent. against 36·8 per cent. last year.

Two districts report one robbery each, two districts 2 each, four districts 3 each, one district 4, one district 5, two districts 7, two districts 9, and one district 12, and one district—Atraf-i-Balda—the highest number, 15. In the Parbhani district, which reported 12 cases, 7 cases are attributed to Saklia Pardi and his gang, of whom mention has been previously made.

There is an aggregate decrease of 121 cases under this class as compared with last year. Medak returns the greatest drop 152 against 281 last year, while Nizamabad returns the greatest rise 159 against 93 in 1334 Fasli. The decrease in the former district is attributed to a return to somewhat normal conditions after the very severe outbreak of plague last year and the rise in the latter to the ever increasing number of criminals employed on the Nizamsagar Project.

Four hundred and eighty-eight cases of burglary were traced out of a total of 1,475, giving a percentage of 23·0 against 40·5 last year and 35·6 in 1333 Fasli. Since burglary is the principal crime of the Dominions, the efforts of the police in this direction as regards detection may be judged from the following figures, showing the percentage of cases traced to reported.

Bir	62·2
Bidar	52·2
Warangal	49·5
Osmanabad	45·4
Nizamabad	39·6
Nalgunda	38·3
Mahbubnagar	38·0
Aurangabad	37·6
Atraf-i-Balda	30·4
Gulburga	29·2
Adilabad	27·5
Karimnagar	26·0
Nander	26·3
Medak	21·0
Raichur	21·0
Parbhani	18·8

It is noticeable that the percentage of detection has fallen in almost all the districts as compared with the previous year, but the outbreak of plague in almost every district provides a reason. Out of the 488 cases traced, 378 were challaned. The courts tried in all 479 cases including those pending from previous years and decided 394 cases, of which 216 ended in conviction. The percentage of conviction was 54·8 against 59·2 in 1334 Fasli. The value of property stolen in burglary cases was Rs. 2,76,034-10-10 which shows an increase of Rs. 28,496-0-1 over the figure of the previous year in spite of a lesser number of cases reported. Parbhani and Nander account for almost the whole of this increase, though Mahbubnagar also shows an increase of over Rs. 9,000 as compared with 1334 Fasli.

While the amount of property stolen shows an increase, the amount of property recovered shows a decrease of Rs. 17,961-0-9 as compared with the previous year. The percentage of recoveries was only 21·2 as compared with 30·7 in 1334 Fasli and 30·4 in 1333 Fasli.

The arrest red-handed of a dangerous burglar in Gulburga Town led to the detection of several cases and the recovery of the stolen property. This man named Shaikh Pahalwan entered the shop of one Muhammad Ismail by breaking one of the boards which served for a door and was helping himself to the cash and currency notes after breaking the lock of the cash chest, when the owner, Muhammad Ismail with some of his companions happened to pass that way after saying the night prayers. Muhammad Ismail entered the shop, when the culprit assaulted him with an iron bar. He was however secured. He confessed to 4 burglaries and 1 theft, the stolen property of which was recovered at his instance. He was sentenced to two years' imprisonment only, though three previous convictions were traced against him.

In Yadgir, a police constable named Shaikh Abdulla harboured a burglar and connived at his doings. He even vouched for his character, when the criminal disposed of the stolen property. The burglar was eventually caught red-handed, when four burglary cases were brought home to him. The constable was also prosecuted under Sections 177, 188 and 189 Asafia Penal Code.

In the Mahbubnagar district, escaped Pusalwars from the Kavali Settlement were responsible for a burglary case, in which property worth Rs. 3,023-8-0 was carried away. The case remained untraced.

Several gangs of Waddars and Donga Dasaries from British India swept over the Atrai-i-Balda district and committed several burglaries on their line of march. Some members of these gangs were arrested by the C. I. D. and the cases were traced.

Most of the heavy burglary cases of the year have remained untraced and the result is reflected in the recoveries, which have dropped to 30 per cent. In the Parbhani district, six cases, in which property of the aggregate value of Rs. 20,595-14-0 was lost, have remained untraced.

A Mina gang, which had apparently been working in this district, has been recently discovered. Investigation is now proceeding with the co-operation of the Criminal Investigation Department, Central Provinces.

In the Atrai-i-Balda district, a heavy burglary was committed, in which property of the value of Rs. 12,634-1-0 was lost, the culprits carrying away the safe containing the property from the tent of Mr. Abdul Ali, Superintendent of Settlement, who was in camp owing to plague. The safe was recovered a short distance away broken open and the ornaments and currency notes stolen. In another case of this district, one Erappa Kalal had buried Rs. 3,000 in his house while leaving for his camp owing to plague. The amount was stolen the same night. Both cases remained untraced.

14. Class IV.—Minor offences against the person. The following table shows minor offences against the person :—

Total ..	202	158	7	51

There is a net decrease of 44 cases under this class as compared with last year. Out of 158 cases, 145 were traced and 139 challaned. Including cases pending from the previous year, the courts heard 161 cases and decided 135 cases, 12 ending in conviction, 80 in compromise and 43 in acquittal. The number of accused persons arrested was 266, of whom 258 were challaned and including the previous year's under-trials, the cases of 249 were decided. Out of these only 13 were convicted, 151 were allowed to compound their cases and 85 were discharged. The percentage of conviction including the cases compounded was 68·1 against 81·3 last year. As regards persons, the percentage of conviction also fell from 75·2 to 65·8.

15. Class V. Minor offences against property.—The subjoined table shows the actual number of minor offences against property :—

This class records a further decrease of 60 cases as compared with last year. The only increase is under criminal breach of trust, the cases under which have more than doubled. This is due to 56 cases being instituted against 2 postal clerks in the Karimnagar district. Fifty cases were instituted against Muhammad Ibrahim, postal clerk, Jamikunta Post-Office, who had embezzled money-orders and V. P. amounts on various dates and six against Muhammad Abbas of Jagtial Post-Office. The former had been convicted and sentenced to 3 years in two cases when the year closed and the cases against the latter were under trial.

Of 1,281 cases under this class, 964 or 75·2 per cent. were traced against 76·7 per cent. last year and 73·4 in 1333 Fasli. Of the detected cases 828 or 85·8 per cent. were challaned during the year. Including the cases pending from previous years, the courts tried 997 cases of which 774 were decided, 430 ending in conviction, 301 in acquittal and 41 in compromise. Two were struck off owing to the death of the accused persons. The percentage of cases convicted to decided was 60·8 against 60·5 last year and 61·6 in 1333 Fasli.

At least one-third of the cases are returned as petty thefts, in which property worth less than Rs. 10 was stolen.

A case of the Nizamabad district challaned as murder and convicted as theft is of interest. A very poor Kunbi woman Rangamma living at Borla village, Banswada Police Station, had a grown-up son Baganna, for whom she was on the look-out for a bride. But owing to her extreme poverty and her inability to provide ornaments for the bride, her advances in this direction were invariably rejected. The son and the mother with the advice of one Balooa then enticed away a minor girl aged about 7 years, who was wearing a pair of (anklets) and other ornaments and throttled her to death and they then threw the dead body in a stream and helped themselves to the ornaments. This was the police case and all the three accused persons were prosecuted for murder. The Sessions Court, however, convicted all the three on a charge of theft and sentenced them to two years' imprisonment each. The police appealed to the High Court and the appeal was pending when the year closed.

The value of property lost in theft cases amounted to Rs. 59,693-12-2 against Rs. 1,17,849-12-0 last year or nearly half the quantity of the preceding year and the value of property recovered amounted to Rs. 29,675-8-9 or 49·7 per cent. against 62·6 last year and 57·7 in 1333 Fasli.

The value of cattle stolen was Rs. 17,638-4-0 and that of recovered Rs. 14,585-10-0 showing a recovery of 82·6 per cent. against 75·8 per cent. the previous year and 84·6 per cent. in 1333 Fasli.

There is a net decrease under this class of 270 cases. This decrease is almost wholly due to fewer prosecutions under the bad livelihood sections and under the Criminal Tribes Act. The great drop in bad livelihood cases from 1,040 in 1331 Fasli to 193 in 1335 Fasli would seem to indicate apathy and indifference on the part of police officers.

Out of 768 cases under this class 740 or 96·3 per cent. were traced against 97·2 last year and 79·6 in 1333 Fasli, and 714 cases were challaned and the courts tried 878 cases including the previous year's arrears. Seven hundred and fifty-six or 86·1 per cent. cases were decided and 524 or 69·3 ended in conviction. The percentage of convictions in 1334 Fasli was 84 and in 1333 Fasli 86·6.

The value of property stolen shows a decrease of Rs. 56,881 as compared with the preceding year, but the recoveries amounted to only 30·5 per cent. as compared with 40·5 per cent. in 1334 Fasli. The Gulburga district figures (13·4 per cent.) are the lowest. Medak and Raichur each recovered less than 20 per cent. Nander and Parbhani stand first and second on the list as regards the amount of property stolen.

The number of cases pending with the courts at the close of the year is again greater than in the preceding year. Although the increase is only 5 cases, it is significant in that it maintains the progressive rise that has taken place under this head during the past few years. This is the more remarkable in view of the fact that fewer cases have been challaned to the courts. The statement given in an earlier part of this report shows that the percentage of cases decided by courts to cases pending disposal is steadily falling. It was 82·2 in 1333 Fasli, 79·7 in 1334 Fasli, and 78·4 during the year under report. This lack of dispatch in the disposal of cases must necessarily have a far-reaching effect and is not calculated to enlist the co-operation of the public in bringing offenders to justice.

Deaths by snake-bite show an increase of 101, suicides 75, and other accidents 106. The other heads show a decrease as compared with the previous year. The total number of accidental deaths shows a slight increase of 44 as compared with the preceding year and calls for no comment.

22. Non-cognizable crime.—There were 92 cases pending in the courts at the end of the previous year. Two hundred and eighty fresh cases as against 375 in 1334 Fasli were taken up during the year, making a total of 372 for disposal. Of these 66 remained pending at the close of the year and 306 were decided, 142 resulting in conviction, 155 in acquittal, 9 cases were expunged owing to the death or escape of the accused or the court holding that an enquiry was unnecessary.

Four hundred and forty-four persons were concerned in non-cognizable offences and 609 were tried by the courts including the previous year's under-trials. Of the latter, 126 remained under trial at the close of the year, the remaining 483 were disposed of as under :—275 acquitted or discharged, 174 convicted and 34 struck off on account of death or escape or because of an enquiry being considered unnecessary.

Only 49 cases against 83 in the previous year for false complaints were instituted during the year and out of a total of 76 tried by the courts, only 7 were convicted. Fifty-five were acquitted or discharged and 12 remained pending at the close of the year. One case was expunged without trial.

Out of these, 102 or 71·8 per cent. were decided, 32 or 31·3 per cent. ending in conviction. The amount of property stolen, however, was only Rs. 10,518-3-6 against Rs. 45,919-6-4 last year—a very great reduction. The recoveries were 30 per cent. against 46·5 per cent. in 1334 Fasli.

24. Criminal Investigation Department.—Sir Francis Crawford was in charge of the department throughout the year and was on tour for 43 days as already noted in an earlier part of this report.

Two hundred and eleven cases were investigated by the Criminal Investigation Department against 140 last year—an increase of 71 cases. This is chiefly due to the inclusion of 5 cases against Sub-Inspector Muslahuddin and 41 cases against Mr. Shamshad Husain, Assistant Superintendent of Police, and Sub-Inspector Muhammad Ayub of Parbhani, which were placed before a Commission. Most of the time of the Touring Superintendent and a number of C. I. D. officers was spent over these cases.

Of the cases dealt with by the department, 16 cases involving 38 persons were transferred to the District Police, one case against one person was released by the department for lack of sufficient evidence and 195 cases were challaned against 363 persons. Including cases pending trial from the previous year, the court took up 204 cases against 407 persons and decided 88 cases with 188 persons, 66 cases with 122 persons ending in conviction and 22 cases with 66 persons ending in acquittal. One hundred and twenty-two cases involving 289 persons were pending trial at the close of the year. This figure includes 46 cases against the Parbhani Police Officers pending before the Commission, but the balance of pending cases—76—is more than double the number of cases pending last year.

The cases taken up by the Criminal Investigation Department during the year were :—

Murders	5
Dakaities	5
Robberies	9
Burglaries	84
Thefts	15
Cattle thefts	8
Bad Livelihood Sections	12
Receiving stolen property	1

Grand Total	211

Of the murder cases deserving mention, one was of Jagirdar Badre Alam of the Parbhani district already referred to, and the other of Seram taluka, Gulbarga district, the facts of which are as follows :—A minor boy, who stood between a certain Mushraf Bhimanna and some landed property, was murdered. Mushraf Bhimanna was prosecuted, but acquitted by the High Court. Mushraf Bhimanna was then murdered, the apparent motive being revenge. Twelve accused are under trial in the Sessions Court.

Five cases of Criminal Breach of Trust were instituted against the marginally noted officers of the Electricity Department, who had misappropriated Government money to the extent of Rs. 51,305-11-7. These cases originally belonged to the City Police jurisdiction, but were specially entrusted to the Criminal Investigation Department under the orders of the Honourable the President of the Executive Council at the request of the Finance Member. They are being tried by a Special Magistrate deputed for the purpose.

During the year under report, officers of the C. I. D. received rewards to the extent of O. S. Rs. 110 from the District Police and B. G. Rs. 110 from the British Police for assistance rendered. Besides cash rewards, a revolver and two watches were also given.

Sir Francis Crawford has left on record his appreciation of the services rendered by the officers of the department and his thanks to the clerical staff.

25. Finger Print Bureau.—Nine thousand two hundred and fifty-nine slips of persons concerned in criminal cases were received for search during the year against 9,642 slips in the previous year, showing a decrease of 383. In addition to the slips in criminal cases, 4,077 slips were received for search in connection with the grant of passes to members of Criminal Tribes or for entries in the Criminal Tribes Register and thus the total number of slips handled by the Bureau was 13,336 against 15,257 in 1334 Fasli.

Out of these, 3,730 slips were received from British India and 9,606 from inside the Dominions. Three hundred and eighty-four out of the former and 1,480 out of the latter were traced to have previous convictions. The British Bureaux traced 28 slips for Hyderabad. Five hundred and three persons were awarded enhanced punishment as against 594 in the previous year.

One thousand eight hundred and ninety-four fresh slips were recorded during the year and 564 destroyed in accordance with the rules in force, leaving a total of 1,19,295 slips on record at the close of the year.

Expert evidence was given in the court in 61 civil and criminal cases as against 17 last year, and expert opinion was expressed on documents in 9 cases.

Six-hundred and sixteen prisoners were photographed during the year and 19 of these photographs were published in the Police Gazette.
